

SHIRLEY TEMPLE SENT EXTORTION NOTE BY YOUTH

16 Year Old Farm Boy Confesses Writing Letter

Washington, July 31.—(P)—A 16 year old Nebraska farm boy, Sterling W. Powell, was arrested today on a charge of sending a $25,000 extortion letter to the father of Shirley Temple, dimpled and curly-haired child movie star.

J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the justice department's bureau of investigation whose G-men's investigation led to the arrest, said tonight that the boy had admitted writing the letter, and was being taken to North Platte for arraignment before a United States commissioner.

Sheriff H. Bechtel, who arrested the boy while he was working in the field at his parents' farm near Grant, Neb., said the boy told him "he didn't mean to go through with it."

The G-men were called in on the case by Shirley's producers in Los Angeles as soon as the extortion letter was opened, three days after the May 15 deadline set for delivery of the $25,000.

The sheriff quoted the letter as saying: "Unless $25,000 is dropped from an airplane near Grant, Neb. on May 15, the life of Shirley Temple will be endangered."

Hoover said that the bureau's technical laboratory was utilized immediately, and that the paper used in the letter was tracked, through its manufacturer, to various stores in Grant, Neb., and Madrid, Neb.

How the G-men turned to Powell was not disclosed in Hoover's formal announcement of the arrest.

The sheriff said the boy sent the letter May 9. It went to Twentieth Century-Fox fan mail department, and was not opened until May 18.

Bechtel turned the boy over to justice department agents who took him to North Platte, where he is to be arraigned tomorrow morning.

The sheriff said Powell was a good student at the Grant High school and that his parents lived in comfortable circumstances.

Mr. and Mrs. Temple and their famous daughter are now touring the northwest.

With the Temples is their chauffeur, who also acts as a bodyguard, and a studio publicity man.

They checked out of a San Francisco hotel yesterday.

The seven-year-old star has been elaborately guarded against possible kidnapping attempts.

On July 17, her father gave an unwitting demonstration of the mechanical bodyguards at the Temple home.

He accidentally tripped a master switch that makes the Temple home "kidnap-proof." Bells clanged, lights blazed and a siren screamed.

The little actress' earnings are estimated at about $500,000 a year. Her father is manager of a branch bank. Her mother is closely associated with her daughter's film work. Shirley has two brothers. One is a third assistant director at the studio where his sister is employed.

Find Body of Man Shot To Death By Boyhood Friend

Five-Day Search Through Wisconsin Woods Ended

Superior, Wis., July 31.—(P)—A five-day hunt through dense wooded sections of Wisconsin ended today with the finding of the body of Robert Bernstein, 24, Janesville, Wis., whom Laverne Marks, 19, a boyhood companion, said he killed without "any premeditation or motive."

The badly decomposed body was found by a party of four, including a woman, which was conducting a search separate from the group led by sheriff's officers. The four discovered the corpse wrapped in a gray blanket 15 feet off a narrow wagon road a quarter mile south of United States Highway 2, 35 miles east of here.

John Bernstein, father of Robert, identified the body from the clothes as that of his son whom Marks said he killed with a single shot of a .22 caliber rifle through the head. Marks said the shooting occurred on the Arthur Salzmann farm near Clintonville, in east central Wisconsin on July 13 and that he hauled the body north-west in a compartment of Bernstein's car, burying it in the woods east of Bruie River State park.

Informed the body had been found, Dr. Ora Marks, brother of Laverne and another son of the Rev. Edward Marks of Salem Evangelical church at Clintonville, said that in his mind "if Laverne were examined by a psychiatrist, there wouldn't be any explanation (of the slaying) necessary. I think he suffers from dementia praecox."

The body was taken to Washburn, the Bayfield county seat, by Coroner Edwin H. Bratley pending a decision on its disposition.

Mr. and Mrs. John Virgin of the Woodson community were callers in Jacksonville yesterday.

Farmers Warned Against Poisons Formed By Drought

Drought-Resisting Green Vegetation May Be Deadly

Washington, July 31.—(P)—A warning that drought converts certain green vegetation into poison deadly to animals was issued today by the Department of Agriculture.

Experts said that livestock in drought areas must be kept out of the drought-resisting green fields of sudan grass, cane or any kind of grain sorghum.

In ordinary years these green crops are safe for pasture but when their growth is stunted by dry weather, deadly doses of acids—hydrocyanic or prussic—result.

It was explained that when drought interferes with the growth of these plants a chemical reaction results. Two harmless substances, a glucoside and an enzyme, react to form the poison.

These same crops are safe for feeding when they have been cut and cured, experts said.

Green tops of potatoes, green and sprouting potatoes, green tomato vines and some other plants also are likely to be poisonous, it was said.

Charge Mary Astor Wilfully Abandoned Her Small Daughter

Former Showgirl Demands Refutation of Nurse's Testimony

Los Angeles, July 31.—(P)—An assertion that auburn-haired Mary Astor "wilfully abandoned" her four-year-old daughter "for a married man—George Kaufman," came tonight from counsel for the movie star's former husband, embroiled with her in a sensational court fight for the custody of the child.

Joseph Anderson, attorney for the film actress' ex-husband, Dr. Franklin Thorpe, said during the week-end recess, "we expect to go very, very thoroughly into the unfitness of Miss Astor to have the child's custody."

Dr. Thorpe charged the actress was not morally fit to care for their daughter, Marilyn.

Anderson's announcement came shortly after blonde Norma Taylor, former Texas Guinan show girl, demanded through her attorney in New York a "complete refutation" of a nursemaid's testimony that sought to link her name romantically with that of Dr. Thorpe.

The nursemaid, Nellie Richardson, testified four women, including Miss Taylor, visited frequently at Dr. Thorpe's home while the child was there and that Miss Taylor "usually" remained all night. She said she frequently served breakfast to them in Dr. Thorpe's bed room.

Anderson received a telegram today from Miss Taylor's attorney, Noah L. Braunstein, of New York, where she is now, saying, "Client demands vindication and complete refutation of testimony against her by Nellie Richardson."

"Otherwise she plans action against all responsible for thoroughly perjurious testimony on part of said witness."

Hearing Restored, Boy Winces When He Hears Sounds

Six-Year Old Boy Regains Hearing During Minor Operation

Milwaukee, July 31.—(P)—His hearing suddenly restored during a minor operation, six-year-old Carl Thelin, Jr., was fighting off pain today to bridge the gap between six years of deafness and a new world of strange harsh sounds.

Carl's ears are plugged with cotton to keep out the jumble of noises, soft to those accustomed to them, but which make him wince with pain. Each day his mother removes the cotton for a lesson in translating sounds into words and phrases.

Totally deaf since he was three months old, the boy was taken to a hospital last Friday to have his tonsils and adenoids removed. As the anesthetic wore off, his mother spoke to him and he suddenly asked: "Mother, is that a voice? Is that what you told me a voice was?"

The mother, who had taught him to speak, and to understand others by lip-reading, burst into tears of happiness.

The boy was so expert at lip-reading that for months his school teachers were unaware he was deaf. The secret came out when he was moved to a back seat and was unable to see the teacher.

KILLED BY TRAIN

Pontiac, Ill., July 31.—(P)—Fred L. Shurr, 55, a World War veteran, was killed today when he was struck by an Altor freight train at a crossing here. He is survived by a brother, Charles, of Pontiac.

KIDNAP PLOTTER TAKES OWN LIFE AFTER SENTENCE

Peifer Chews Poison Gum In His Jail Cell

St. Paul, July 31.—(P)—John P. Peifer, convicted kidnap plotter in the sensation-marked William Hamm, Jr., case, ended his life in his jail cell—presumably by chewing poisoned gum—two hours after he had been sentenced to serve 30 years in prison.

The former St. Paul night club operator, branded by a federal court jury the "finger man" in the $100,000 abduction, thus became the second suicide growing out of the three year old crime.

The first was "stir crazy" Willie Sharkey, Chicago Touhy gang member, who hanged himself with his necktie in his cell here two years ago after he and fellow gangsters had been acquitted on charges of kidnaping Hamm.

Three jailers, summoned by fellow prisoners when Peifer appeared to be in convulsions called in rescue squads which attempted to revive him. But their efforts were futile.

Dr. W. D. Kelly, physician for the federal government who examined Peifer's body before it was taken to the county morgue for a post mortem, expressed the opinion that the prisoner had effected his death by chewing poison mixed with gum that was found in his mouth.

Prisoners in neighboring cells, one of them Edmund C. Bartholmey, awaiting sentence on a plea to guilty in the same kidnaping, said that Peifer had refused to partake of the lunch served shortly after he was brought in from Federal Judge M. M. Joyce's court. They said that he appeared to be weeping shortly before the fatal spasms and ensuing coma aroused them to call for help.

Bartholmey said he had talked with Peifer when he was returned to the cellroom.

"I asked him what his sentence was," Bartholmey told officers, "and he said 'I got 30 years. That's quite a load.'"

"He said he was not feeling well," Bartholmey added, "but gave me no indication whatsoever that he intended to take his life."

Oregon Convict Is Slain By Guard in Penitentiary Riot

Two Other Prisoners Wounded in Three Hour Protest of Court Ruling

Salem, Ore., July 31.—(P)—A thrice-convicted murderer was killed and two other prisoners were wounded when inmates of the Oregon penitentiary rioted nearly three hours here today in protest against a court ruling to deny freedom to a prisoner.

Threats of a tear gas attack by 20 state policemen finally forced surrender of the 700 convicts, who had created pandemonium in the prison yard half the afternoon.

Under the cover of rifles held by state police on the walls, guards walked out to the prisoners and signalled them to lineup. Suddenly the men fell into ranks and filed back to their cells.

Thomas Baughn, 50-year-old convict, paid with his life as he and several others had led nearly 100 yelling prisoners in a dash for the walls.

A bullet from the rifle of a guard felled him with a fatal abdominal wound. Two others went down before the convicts ran for cover.

Silence reigned for a minute as the convicts fell, shot by Guard H. H. Corey from the prison wall.

Then the yard again was a milling mass of angry prisoners. The leaders appeared to organize and sent a message to Warden Lewis: "We are not going back to the cell block."

Warden Lewis replied: "They are."

Baughn died an hour after a rifle bullet pierced his lungs. Wounded were James J. Hamilton, 36, murderer serving a life sentence, shot through the back and in serious condition; and Joseph Dupray, 24, serving two-year sentence for burglary, shot through the hand.

Guard Corey said he fired when the three ran for the walls, ignoring his warning to "halt."

PSYCHIATRIST SAYS COLLINS WAS INSANE

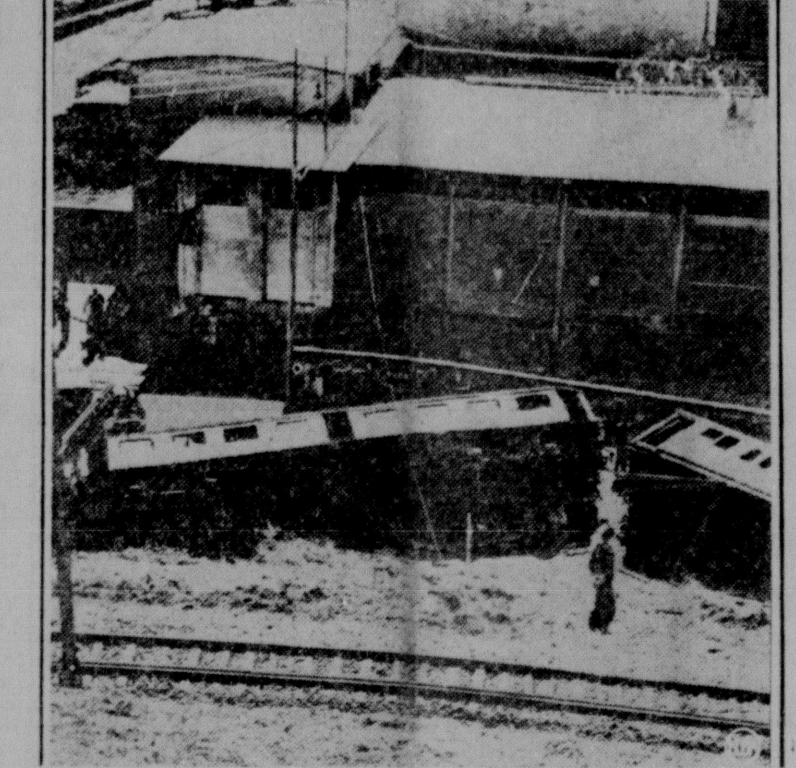

Aledo, Ill., July 31.—(P)—Dr. John I. Marker, Davenport, Ia., psychiatrist, testified today that in his opinion John H. Collins, New Boston lock carpenter foreman, was insane at the time the state charged he shot and killed Roger Johnson, 19, of Keithsburg, last April 21.

Dr. Marker said that Collins' mental condition was brought on by worry over the disappearance of his wife and an overdose of nerve stimulant.

The state charged that Johnson was slain after he chauffeured Mrs. Collins to California.

Frank Reid of the Murrayville community was a business visitor in Jacksonville yesterday afternoon.

Four Die in Train Wreck Rebels Caused

Jim Farley Begins Leave of Absence From The Cabinet

Labor Leaders Blast Landon Stand On Union Organization

Washington, July 31.—(P)—Three moves from within organized labor on behalf of the New Deal coincided today with James A. Farley's leaving-taking from the cabinet to confine himself to the Roosevelt campaign.

George L. Berry, as president of "Labor's Non-Partisan League," contended the labor section of Governor Alf M. Landon's acceptance speech "meant there must be an absolutely clear road for formation of company unions, which are owned, financed and controlled by the employers."

His statement, called forth by the amplification of the Republican presidential nominee's views yesterday, said "candidate Landon finds it necessary to discover new reasons for the desecration and neglect to his record."

Philip Murray, heading a committee attempting to unionize steel workers, asked the Kansas executive by telegram from Pittsburgh to investigate what he called "coercive tactics" against union organizers by the Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation. He suggested that Landon's uncle, William T. Mossman, public relations counsel for the steel company, be asked several questions, among them "why 14 men were recently fired by that corporation for union activities."

The United Mine Workers Journal, in an issue which it said went to 361,787 people, asserted the Roosevelt position "is based upon hate, actual, bitter and based on that part of what is commonly called the upper classes of society."

In his last meeting with reporters in the Postmaster General's office before assuming direction of the Democratic campaign exclusively from New York, Chairman Farley said an attempt would be made to keep expenses within $2,000,000. Every county will be touched in "the most active speaking campaign the party has ever had," he said, with the tempo increasing after conferences between him and state leaders beginning next week.

FARMER CONFESSES SELF-MUTILATION

Champaign, Ill., July 31.—(P)—Approximately 1,000 Illinois farmers and stockmen gathered at the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois, today to discuss drought feeding problems and study feeding experiments.

Farm experts from Illinois and other states spoke on results of feeding experiments carried out during past drought seasons.

A survey among the farmers showed that the top price on any of the eight different lots of Texas Hereford steers fattened on a variety of feeding schedules was $2.15 a hundred pounds in the lot, or $8.00 on the Chicago market.

These cattle, the survey showed, returned $3.99 a head above the cost of their feed and purchase price and returned 59 cents a bushel for the corn consumed.

COMMITTEEWOMAN INJURED

Chicago, July 31.—(P)—Mrs. Elizabeth Conkey, 52, Democratic National Committeewoman from Illinois, was slightly injured in an automobile accident tonight.

A taxicab in which she was riding sideswiped another car driven by Miss Margaret Adams, 27, a stenographer. Mrs. Conkey suffered cuts on her head and face when she was showered with broken glass from a window.

ADDED TO DROUGHT AREA

Japanese Officers Sentenced for Part In Army Rebellion

Six Get Four Years to Life for Bloody Uprising In February

Tokyo, July 31.—(P)—Six army officers were sentenced today to imprisonment of from four years to life for complicity in the military rebellion of February 26, the war office announced.

Captain Hideo Yamaguchi was sent to prison for life for aiding the bloody uprising which cost the lives of three elder statesmen, among the most distinguished in the recent history of Japan.

A special court martial earlier this month sentenced 17 leaders of the unsuccessful coup to death and five to life imprisonment. A laconic communiqué several days later, however, disclosed 15 had been executed, but did not explain why two others escaped the penalty.

Previously 44 non-commissioned officers and eight civilians, found guilty of murder, rebellion and disobedience to the emperor, were imprisoned for terms ranging from 18 months to 15 years.

FARMERS, STOCKMEN MEET FOR DISCUSSION AT STATE UNIVERSITY

Italian Aiators Sent Out To Aid Rebels Questioned

Deny Being Sent By Government; Ammunition Found In Planes

Casablanca, French Morocco, July 31.—(P)—Gen. Victor De Nain, chief of France's North African air force, took over the investigation tonight of four Italian planes believed enroute to aid Spanish rebels.

Eleven Italian air force officers in civil clothes were under arrest. They were forced down on the coast in two huge tri-motored ships.

A third plane crashed and burned, killing three and seriously injuring two of its occupants. The fourth plane was reported lost at sea.

Under close questioning, the Italian fliers forced down at Cejda denied they were sent by the Rome government and said they were dispatched by a private aviation firm.

A report from Rabat said knapsacks dropped by the plane, which flew low, contained uniforms of the Spanish Foreign Legion.

It was said officials seized the uniforms as well as a note instructing the aviators to put on the uniforms and say they were Legionnaires who had lost their way on a scouting flight.

The planes were believed members of a convoy of six enroute to Melilla, Spanish Morocco stronghold of Gen. Francisco Franco. They took off from Delmas field, south Sardinia, supposedly on an attempted non-stop flight to the rebel town.

An authoritative source at Rabat reported 14 planes similar in type to the Italian machines which came down in French territory arrived at Nador, Spanish Morocco.

FIRE DESTROYS BARN

Coatsburg, Ill., July 31.—(P)—Fire believed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion in newly threshed alfalfa today destroyed two large barns and four other buildings on the William Sprenger farm near here. Luther Huebner, a bucket brigade volunteer, was slightly injured when he fell from the roof of one of the buildings.

Rebel Army Marches Toward Spanish Capital; Crucial Battle Of Revolt Expected

PLAN DROUGHT AID FOR BIG FARM OWNERS

Revival Of Tree Belt Project Being Considered

Washington, July 31.—(P)—With a program for aiding smaller farmers in the drought area underway, and long range rehabilitation studies launched, federal officials turned today to the puzzling problem of helping big farm operators who can not qualify as "destitute."

Revival of the Great Plains "shelterbelt" tree project, abandoned when congress failed to provide money for continued planting, was thrust prominently into the long-time planning program.

After a meeting of the Great Plains drought area committee Morris L. Cooke, chairman, said funds still were available from unsound previous allocations and that the shelterbelt venture was "not dead but very active."

The planting of tree belts north and south across the plains was designed to stop soil blowing and effect climatic changes.

From the northwest cattle country and the Great Lakes dairy sections arose a new call for government assistance in financing huge herd owners of which do not come under current relief classifications.

While aides to Secretary Wallace pondered the situation, Governors Clyde L. Herring of Iowa and R. L. Cochran of Nebraska urged that additional counties in their states be given emergency drought relief rating and appealed to WPA to "cut the red tape" in providing jobs for destitute farmers.

At the same time 16 representatives of cooperating government agencies collaborated with the Great Plains drought area committee in preparing long-range rehabilitation recommendations to be made to President Roosevelt.

Miners bolstered Loyalist troops for a new siege of the Northern City of Oviedo, but delayed direct attack to spare the city further damage. The city had changed hands at least twice during heavy fighting of the past three days.

Catalan troops thrust at Zaragoza, important northern city held by rebels, in a series of fierce encounters. "Many casualties," were reported.

Reports from Jaen said that loyal forces had demanded surrender of Cordoba and that Col. Yague, chief of the rebels within, had committed suicide.

Loyalist entrance into Cordoba was predicted shortly as rebels were deserting strategic points in the city.

Advices from Navalpala said a Loyalist column headed by Col. Mangarout routed a rebel force, killing 63 and taking a number of prisoners.

Government radio announcements reported heavy desertions of both officers and soldiers on all rebel fronts. Rebels asserted the government suffered lack of properly trained aviation officers, was poorly equipped with bombs, and that most planes were piloted by sergeants and privates.

Violence was growing in force. (A Lisbon, Portugal, correspondent reported communists had gouged out the eyes of an aged priest at Avila, dragged him through the streets and burned him to death with gasoline.)

Bodies of 9 Men Victims of Boat Disaster Found

Divers Search Sand Barge in Waters of Lake Michigan

Chicago, July 31.—(P)—Lake Michigan yielded bodies of nine of the 15 men lost early Wednesday in the explained sinking of the motor barge Material Service as calm waters today permitted divers to search the sand boat, lying in 25 feet of water off the South Chicago lighthouse.

Six bodies were taken from the hull and the two divers, who worked in relays, said they had nearly completed a search of the ship's interior. Three other bodies were sighted on the surface.

Divers said they would turn their attention to a survey of the barge's exterior and the lake bottom in the vicinity in the hope of finding a clue to the cause of the disaster.

Coast guard cutters cruised in the vicinity looking for bodies, while ashore a federal board of inquiry heard two of the seven survivors who had not yet testified.

CONVICTED ON MISCHIEF CHARGE

Carthage, Ill., July 31.—(P)—Everett Kerry, 21, of Fountain Green, Ill., was fined $100 and sentenced to 90 days at the penal farm by County Judge J. Arthur Baird when he was convicted on charges of malicious mischief.

Prosecutors charged that Kerry and a 16 year old companion, who was placed on probation, had set fire to a pasture on the Arthur Geddes farm near Fountain Green.

HEADS YOUTH PROGRAM

Chicago, July 31.—(P)—Appointment of the Rev. Dr. Jesse L. Murrell of Miami, Fla., as head of the youth program of the Methodist Episcopal church was announced today by the Rev. Dr. Frederick C. Eischen, executive secretary of the denomination's board of education.

7,000 Miles

A recent account in the news described the travels of two Jacksonville couples ending after a month's trip through southwestern United States, covering 7,000 miles. Sightings and scenes of the jaunt included an Indian reservation, scenic wonders, national parks, the San Diego Exposition, maneuvering of the Pacific fleet with its attending air force and a score of interesting western cities.

Not even the crowded imagination of a recreated Jules Verne could hide his wonder at this itinerary, accomplished in such a casual and effortless fashion and in so short a time. A great many of us today may yawningly dismiss its significance, but its real meaning should not be completely lost.

These local people will not only remember the larger spectacles of their "outing," but will carry a host of smaller memories of persons who lived along the route of their travels. Unconsciously they make a comparison with their own homes and these stranger modes of living.

Travel used to be a sort of colored picture postcard proposition. It was the vogue to see certain things and be able to say through the years of a colorless existence, "Oh, yes, we've been there, right pretty place."

These four persons who enjoyed this particular trip have probably found that it is about 7,000 miles to Jacksonville. They started from their homes, ticked off the above mileage, and returned again to their own front doors. And they will agree that one of the greatest values was the realization of a proper perspective of their own existence, an appreciation of the place they live in, perhaps as part of another tourist's 7,000 miles.

Facts on Gambling

In this age when the country seems to be struck with the gambling craze, it is well to consider the thing from a factual point of view. Too many people, spurred by the long shot possibility of getting something for nothing, neglect to think of the fact that in all probability all they will do is lose their money. They reason, "Oh, well, I can't lose much and just look how much I might win." But they keep on losing maybe a dime, twenty cents or more a day until finally the amount that they have lost is startling. The trouble with most of us is simply that we are so blinded by the desire to crack a jack-pot that we fail to realize that the one-armed bandits are gradually and subtly stealing all of our spare cash. And it's the same with the dice games, the horses, the baseball pools and other forms of gambling.

Dr. Aaron Bakst of the department of mathematics in Teachers College, Columbia University, has just finished a survey of the mathematical probability of winning at games of chance. His computations follow:

Sweepstakes—"If 5,500,000 tickets costing $2.50 each are sold, the chance of winning one of the four-teen prizes of $150,000 each or the lesser prizes of $75,000 and $50,000 is one in 390,000. The chance of winning any of the smaller prizes is one in 2,500."

Poker—"The chance of getting a straight flush is one in 62,000; of getting four of a kind, one in 4,000; a full house, one in 600; three of a kind, one in fifty, and two pairs, one in twenty."

Bridge—"The chance of getting thirteen cards of the same suit is one in 153,000,000,000, approximately. The fact that some persons have had thirteen of one suit is not a normal thing, but an event. That's why some persons have died of heart failure. The possibility of getting twelve of one suit, however, is only one in 300,000,000."

Odds For Roulette

Roulette—"The possibility of winning thirty-six times the amount wagered is slightly less than one in thirty-six, allowing for the zero coming up. The chance of winning an amount equal to that wagered is slightly less than one in two."

Numbers Game—"This is the most vicious of all. The chance of winning is only about one in 1,000,000,000."

Dice—"In rolling dice, a person has four chances out of eighteen to win on the first throw. After that it becomes more complicated, but can be computed. The chance of getting a seven on the first roll is one in six, and of getting an eleven, one in eighteen."

Explaining that his figures were based on the assumption that the games were conducted honestly, Dr. Bakst said he was convinced that most sweepstakes and lotteries were. When asked whether he ever purchased lottery tickets, he replied: "Yes, but I never won anything."

Now is the Time

If you are a user of a typewriter, it is most certain that at some time or other, probably quite often, you have sat down to try out a new machine or to warm up on your trusty old battler and in so doing have banged out:

"Now is the time for all good men to come to the aid of the party." This sentence, it seems, ever since the introduction of typewriters has been a standard for testing the keyboard. Somehow or other the words automatically come from the tips of a typist's fingers when his mind wanders from the formal script. He bangs out "Now is the time..." without even thinking of the words as regularly and as mechanically as he slips into his coat when dressing.

Interesting to note is the source of this sentence used by all typists. It came into use when Charles E. Weller, a court reporter and friend of Christopher Latham Sholes, inventor of the typewriter, first tested the practicability of the first model while it was still in the experimental stage. The test occurred in Milwaukee during the exciting political campaign of 1867.

Probably the atmosphere of the campaign which no doubt made the subject of politics topmost in conversation and first among thoughts in the mind of a reporter, especially, led Weller to pound out that sentence when he first tried the typewriter. Since that time those sixteen words have been a mental accessory to every user of the typewriter.

The Old Combination

It's a bit hard, despite the optimism of the diplomats, to swallow the new Austro-German treaty negotiated by Chancellors Hitler and Schuschnigg, guaranteeing Austria's complete independence of Nazism.

For one thing, its three-year limit falls sadly short of the 25-year non-aggression pact Hitler has talked about. But more important is the fact that the treaty swings Europe back to the pre-war habit of alliances and combinations.

Already there is ample evidence that Il Duce has effected a sort of triple alliance with Germany and Austria, even though he has not signed a formal pact. Witness, for example, the refusal of both Italy and Germany to take part in the new Locarno conference, seeking to rebuild the treaty which Der Fuehrer so boldly scrapped a few weeks back.

It appears that Europe again is headed toward the vicious doctrine of the "balance of powers." It's pretty difficult to look hopefully on that sort of development.

Camp Jacksonville To Celebrate First Anniversary Aug. 4

Will Be Homecoming For 50 Boys Sent To Rushville; Plan Program

In keeping with the first anniversary of Camp Jacksonville, C. C. C. No. 2678, an anniversary program will be sponsored by the Camp officers and supervisory personnel Tuesday evening, August 4th. The program will also be a home coming for the fifty enrollees who have been assigned on detached service to the C. C. C. Camp at Rushville for the past several months.

Beginning at 5:00 o'clock Tuesday evening a banquet will be given in the mess hall for all enrollees and at 6:30 the evening's activities will open to which the general public is invited. At this time all enrollees will assemble for their impressive retreat ceremonies. Following retreat, the camp buildings will be open for public inspection until the evening's entertainment begins at 7:30 o'clock.

The free program and entertainment will be given by a professional vaudeville troupe: Frank Webb, Broadway comedian, Lloyd Senter, European contortionist and Roman ring artist, Gracia, mistress of ceremonies and a comedy program featuring the Hill-billy minstrel and Hobo Joe from Kokomo will be offered. The vaudeville specialties, consisting of acrobatic, contortion, juggling, magic, aerial and high class comedians, have been giving performances in numerous C. C. C. camps throughout the United States, and have the endorsement of the district commander's office at Jefferson Barracks.

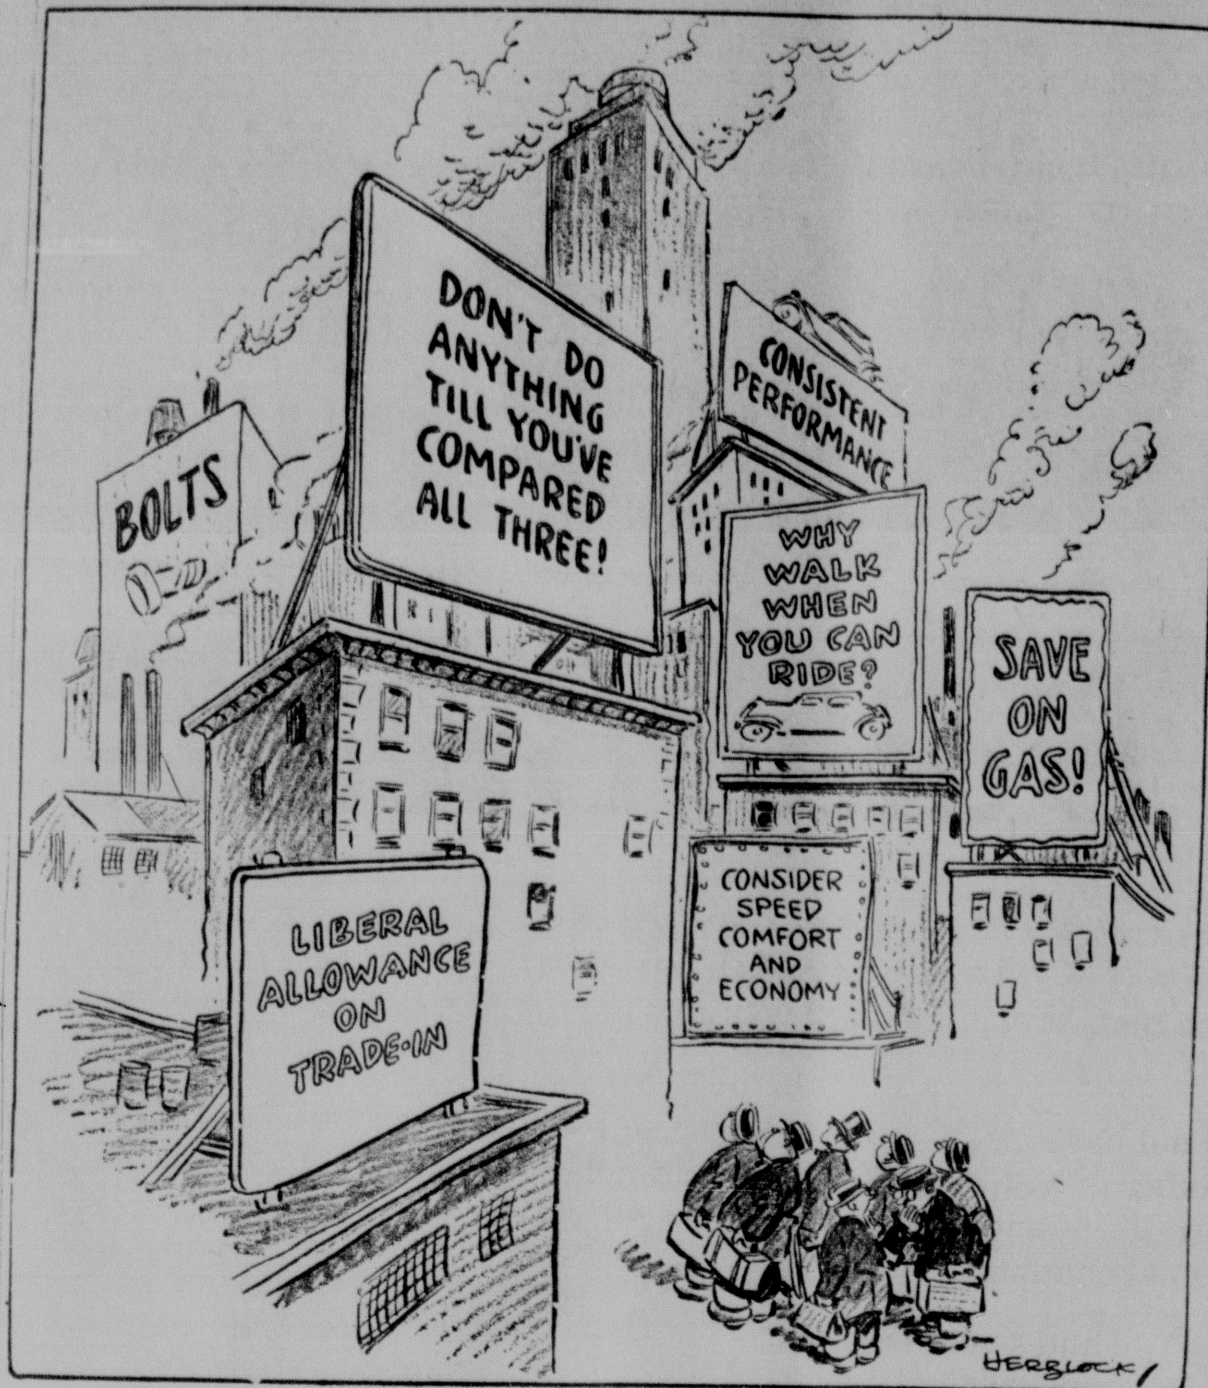

The talent will be augmented by several local artists and a fine entertainment is promised the enrollees and visitors. Every effort is being made by the committee in charge to make this an occasion to be long remembered by the enrollees.

As this is the first time the general public has had the opportunity to visit Camp Jacksonville since last fall, the officers and enrollees are looking forward to a fine response from the citizens of the community to visit this camp. CONSERVATIVE DEMOCRATS TO MEET IN DETROIT

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Other Government Workers Get Vacations, but There's No Rest for Ed McGrady... Proves He's Tops as Labor Trouble Conciliator... His Toledo Plan Has Attracted Wide Attention.

By Rodney Dutcher
Jacksonville Journal and Courier
Washington Correspondent

Washington, July 30.—New Dealers seldom have been scarcer in Washington than now. Nearly all of them are having their vacations.

But not Ed McGrady. It doesn't look as if he would get any vacation at all.

Most lately McGrady has been down in Savannah, Ga., trying to head off a strike of longshoremen. Before that he was sitting in Washington, at conferences in Washington between the A. F. of L. and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

A month ago he was trying to do his job as an official at the Democratic national convention and mediate the strike of RCA workers in nearby Camden, N. J., at the same time.

Before that, it was a long string of other labor difficulties, including the bituminous coal mines settlement, to which McGrady applied the important finishing touches.

He has played a unique role as the administration's trouble shooter and conciliator par excellence. He also has his position as assistant secretary of labor plus direct authority from the president, whose name he uses for all it's worth in the pinches.

No high official ever had such a big jail record as McGrady. He was arrested a score or more times in labor disputes before he entered the government service. Never convicted and always, he says, "framed."

At any rate, he has fought in labor's battles and today has labor's confidence. He has had the confidence of employers, too, or his record of successful conciliation couldn't have come to be what it is.

Doesn't Look His 64 Years

Most of those who see McGrady are astonished to learn that he is 64 years old. His hair and moustache are black and his body is hard. He dresses snappily.

He works fast and vigorously, nearly always until late at night, and he speaks tensely and forcefully. During the last three years he has flown nearly 100,000 miles in connection with his peace-making efforts.

He was born in Jersey City and his formal education ended with a high school course in economics and business management in Boston. First a newsboy, he became a newspaper pressman 42 years ago, then head of the newspaper pressman's union, the central labor union, the Massachusetts Federation of Labor.

He went into Democratic politics, too, serving in the Massachusetts legislature. In his earlier days he was an amateur boxer.

During the war he recruited skilled labor and investigated War Department contracts. In 1919 Samuel Gompers hired him as a lobbyist for the A. F. of L. on Capitol Hill and he served in that job for 14 years, making many friends and few enemies.

He led labor's drive for the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction act and for defeat of the nomination to the Supreme Court of Judge John J. Parker, who had upheld so-called "yellow dog" contracts.

Won Over Madam Perkins
He went into the campaign for Roosevelt in 1932. When NRA was formed, he became Gen. Hugh Johnson's labor aide and friend. Roosevelt and Farley wanted to make him assistant secretary of labor, but Secretary Perkins couldn't see it.

McGrady performed valuable services. It was he who got the Pennsylvania "captive mine" coal miners to call off a strike when he promised them, "The President intends that you shall get a square deal."

After that, Miss Perkins told Farley: "I was wrong about Mr. McGrady." Today McGrady and his female boss have strong respect for each other.

McGrady thinks you can adjust almost any labor dispute without a violent bitter-end fight, costly to both sides. Sometimes he fails, but he insists there would be far fewer labor troubles if there were more tolerance, understanding and freedom from personal bitterness on both sides.

Works Out "Toledo Plan"

At Toledo, after much strike violence, McGrady worked out the "Toledo industrial peace plan." This calls for a neutral board of 18 of the city's outstanding citizens, pledged to try to work out agreements in case of threatened strikes or lockouts.

There is nothing compulsory about it, but it is said to have worked out well. The theory of it is that the board must be such as to impress both sides with its fairness.

McGrady's own ability to create such an impression is the chief secret of his relative success. And a further example of that is the fact that he stands equally well with the leaders of the A. F. of L. craft unions and those of the C. I. O.

There are times, however, when he craves his fist on a conference table and says, "The president wants —" And that usually works, too.

"Our Daily Bread"

Man needs more than bread. He needs the word of God; communion with the higher power. Every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God is meant for man. The Book that is His word was given for man's blessing and salvation.

He who would not have his life merely physical, who would lift himself Godward in partaking of a spiritual feast, should not only read the Book, but seek its meaning by attendance upon divine services; spiritual hunger must be satisfied thru spiritual channels.

Thruout life we toil and sweat for bread. We spend our years in labor to provide the necessities for physical existence. But we are told in Scripture that physical food, clothing and shelter are not all that we need. In fact they will not enable us really to live, but only to exist on a plane with the beasts of the field.

Within the church the Book is opened and interpreted. Man hears there the word of God as he can hear it nowhere else. From the pulpit it is given him as the best thought by the minister; thru sacred song it steals into his soul and strengthens him for life's tasks.

Dizzy Dean Wins Game For Cards With Tenth Inning Single Scoring Two Runs

Brooklyn, July 31.—(AP)—Dizzy Dean won his own ball game today, singling in the winning runs in the tenth inning to give the Cardinals an 8 to 6 victory over the Dodgers and enable the Gas House gang to remain one game off the National League pace.

Although giving up 11 hits, Dean was tight in the pinches, striking out nine batters and walking but two, to score his 17th victory of the season against eight setbacks.

Ducky Medwick started the Cardinal scoring with a two-run homer in the first inning, his 15th four-bagger of the year. The Cards increased

Berger Cracks Out Two Homers for Bees

Boston, July 31.—(AP)—Walley Berger's two home runs today did little to aid the cause of the Boston Bees as the hard-clouting Pittsburgh Pirates blasted two Boston pitchers for 14 hits to win, 10 to 5.

The Pirates got to Jim Chaplin for five runs in the fifth, when Paul Weaver, Suhr and Young singled, Vaughn and Padden walked, and Jim Weaver, winning pitcher, cracked out a two-bagger.

The Pirates added three runs in the sixth inning off Bob Reis.

Weaver was relieved by Hoyt in the seventh inning after Berger drove his first homer into the left field stand with two out.

MAGNIFICENT OLYMPIC STADIA AS SEEN FROM AIR

Fifty nations, that have sent 5500 athletes to Berlin for the XI Olympic Games, have centered their athletic interests on the huge Reich Sports Field, shown above in an excellent air view. In the center of the picture is the $4,000,000 Olympic Stadium, accommodating 100,000 spectators, and directly in front is the huge polo field and assembly grounds, embracing 25 acres. More than 500,000 spectators can be handled comfortably in the various sports centers.

Brownies Defeat Athletics 12 to 4

"Sunny Jim" Bottomley Hits Two Home Runs

St. Louis, July 31.—(AP)—The battle for seventh place in the American League between St. Louis and Philadelphia found the Browns in a strategic position after their 12 to 4 slaughter of the A's today.

The victory gave Rogers Hornsby's men a 21-game advantage over Connie Mack's boys. Philadelphia must win all three of the remaining games of this series to dump the Browns back into the cellar.

A major factor in the third straight win for St. Louis was Jim Bottomley's two home runs—each with Sammy West on base. They were the eighth and ninth of the season for the veteran first baseman who recently announced he would quit the team because his physical condition was not the best. He changed his mind.

BOB OXTORY RETURNS FROM TRIP TO CANADA

Memories of a canoe trip through Minnesota's northern and Canada's southern lakes lingered in the mind of Bob Oxtoby, son of Prof. and Mrs. Frederick Oxtoby, when he returned late Thursday night from a two weeks fishing and camping trip.

In company with three persons from Springfield, including P. L. Hesser, Boy Scout executive, the party left from Winton, Minnesota in a canoe and camped at night at Perry Portage, Canada. While en route they saw several deer and many porcupines.

The group set up camp at Gordon Lake, where it remained for three days. On its way back to Winton the campers ran into a forest fire which forced them to detour. After leaving Winton for Jacksonville, they stopped at Cedar Lake for a day's fishing.

BACK ON JOB

Although he set a new world record of 14 feet 6 1/2 inches in the preliminaries to the final tryouts, George Varoff is back on his janitor's job in San Francisco instead of being in Berlin with the American Olympic team. The reason is that Varoff was set down to fourth place, just failing to qualify in the finals. The handsome youngster expects to go more than 15 feet one of these days. He will be seen in eastern meets in August and is to re-enter the University of Oregon this fall.

Women's Club Has Report Available

On Business Trend Find Expanding Fields of Work Opening To U. S. Women

Chairmen in the Business and Professional Women's club have received a report of recent surveys made by the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs showing that the expanding fields for women include public office, home economics, accountancy, and commercial art.

In many cases these reports show that women have a special contribution to make to the world of business. The woman's knowledge of home-making, housekeeping and hospitality, has brought much success in hotel and restaurant work, in glorified housekeeping and in the field of retail stores.

Miss Frances Cummings, the Federation's director of education and publications, has made available to the public and to members of the organization, vocational data of special interest to women to be used in colleges and in schools, in aiding the choice of vocations and as subjects for study.

The Federation has a series of pamphlets based on its round table discussions on the changing patterns for women in twenty-six occupations. These contain opinions and observations of women in all parts of the country engaged in the various fields discussed.

The pamphlets are recommended for study by students and for consideration in class room and in debates. The occupations covered in the pamphlets are: Accounting and book-keeping, aviation, cosmetology, credit management, finance, general office positions, home economics, hotel and restaurant positions, insurance, journalism, law, library work, medicine, motion picture positions, nursing, office management, osteopathy, ownership and management personnel management, public office, railroad positions, real estate, retail store service, secretarial work, social work, and teaching.

Miss Mary Stewart, chairman of the Vocational Advisory committee of the Federation, calls attention to three trends of wide importance to women in the new vocational series of the Federation. She is assistant director of Indian Education, Department of the Interior, and former Dean of Women in the University of Montana. At one time she was assistant director of the United States Employment Service, Department of Labor.

According to Miss Stewart, "women are displaying great courage and resourcefulness in working their way out of the depression, into positions for which they are peculiarly fitted."

New Berlin High School Scene Of Threatening Fire

Department Extinguishes Blaze Caused By Explos- ion Of Paint Remover

New Berlin—Quick action of New Berlin's volunteer fire department here Thursday afternoon quenched a serious fire in the high school building caused when paint remover being used in the hall ignited. There was some damage to the building.

Late in the afternoon someone ignited a match at one end of the hall, and fumes from the paint removing liquid burst into flame, sweeping rapidly along the hall.

Heat from the flames was sufficient to break windows in some of the doors, and scorch the woodwork and walls. The fire department arrived on the scene shortly after the blaze broke out and prevented more serious damage.

Church Class Will Present Biblical Dramatization Here

Married Couple's Class Of Central Christian Church Sponsors

The Married Couple's class of Central Christian church, stage "The First Commandment," a gigantic Biblical dramatization, which is something absolutely new and different Sept. 28 and 29. It is a most unusual and spectacular production.

"The First Commandment" is more than an entertainment. It has educational, moral and artistic value. It is beautifully staged and is historically accurate in every detail.

This production is Biblical, containing interesting stories from the Bible. Such stories as the Life of Joseph, The Life of Moses, and the Nativity are dramatized. The entire continuity of the story is carried by one character, the grandfather, who is telling the story to his son, his daughter-in-law and his two grandchildren. Between the scenes music of the very finest nature is rendered by a chorus. This music contains the finest of anthems, hymns and operas. Such beautiful numbers as the "Hallelujah Chorus" from the Messiah and many others are presented in staging "The First Commandment". Every costume is historically accurate and authentic. The color combinations are beautiful. Special lighting equipment adds to the effectiveness of the presentation.

"The First Commandment" is directed by an experienced person representing The American Educational Company of Fairfield, Iowa. "The First Commandment" will be presented in the Central Christian church. Paul Knox is president of the class.

Bryan Hocking Is Found Guilty By County Court Jury

Judge Thomson Will Pass Sentence On Local Man Today

After deliberating more than eight hours and taking more than 40 ballots a jury in Judge William E. Thomson's court at 11:10 o'clock last night returned a verdict declaring Bryan Hocking to be a "vagrabond."

The case opened at two o'clock Friday afternoon with State's Attorney W. H. Absher representing the People and Oscar Zachary the defendant.

The information filed by the state's attorney declared that Hocking "did unlawfully become an idle and dissolute person and common drunkard, and so remained from thence, hitherto and by reason thereof become and was from thence hitherto, a vagabond, contrary to the form of the statute in such case made and provided, and against the peace and dignity of the same, People of the State of Illinois."

The defendant requested a trial before a jury of 12 men. The first twelve jurors that appeared in the jury box were quickly accepted by both the prosecution and the defense.

After State's Attorney Absher presented his case, the defense placed several witnesses on the stand, including the defendant.

There were no closing arguments. The jurors retired and began their deliberations. It was rumored about the court room that the first ballot stood 9 to 3 for conviction. Later it is reported to vote stood 6 to 6. When the jurors went to dinner shortly after 6 o'clock it was claimed that they stood 7 to 5 for conviction.

About ten o'clock last night it was court house gossip that the jury stood 10 to 2 for conviction. Later it was rumored the count stood 11 to 1. Shortly after 11 o'clock the last man was won over and the guilty verdict was reached.

Members of the jury were: B. C. Lair, Harry Salby, H. C. Hicks, E. M. Murphy, J. L. McDonald, Walter Helenthal, W. M. Meyers, Thomas M. Rine, John Tobin, Thomas Craver, G. A. Dunlap and Roy P. Hapke.

Judge Thomson adjourned court until 9 o'clock this morning. He instructed the sheriff to bring the defendant into court at that time.
